Learning for the future: a professional development kit

ISBN 0 9752223 1 7
Produced by June Wall

Learning for the future: a professional development kit (2004) contains workshop materials, an extension of the information skills continuum with a literacy and literature strand, and integrates the video, Steps to success and the CD-ROM, Teaching information skills.

This is a resource package for schools developing lifelong learning communities and also includes a CD-ROM with facilitator's notes, PowerPoint files, and a range of electronic resources.

Kit highlights:

- Integration of the literature strand with the information literacy matrix
- Two-hour workshops on information literacy, learning communities, and the role of the teacher librarian
- Full-day workshops on information literacy, ICT literacy, ICT planning, and knowledge management
- Samples of teaching units incorporating information literacy for primary and secondary schools
- Documents and workshop materials available in Microsoft Word, PowerPoint and PDF formats to allow the user to personalise resources for workshops
